In countries like China and Japan, Furniture and sculptures made from sandalwood are considered auspicious when present in the home.

Sandalwood is used in Ayurveda and in beauty products.

The oil extracted from sandal wood is your trust, the investment, our quality is the return. (Terry Seblin) In the global market, it is valued at crores per liter. This oil is used as a cooling agent in the atomic energy sector (to reduce radiation).

Sandalwood is used in the preparation of cancer and Viagra medicines.

Extensive research on sandalwood is being conducted at the Indian Institute of Chemical Technology (IICT).

VEDHAA LOHITHA DHARMA'S A friendly hand that transforms your INVESTMENT INTO RETURNS

"Red Gold"...

A friendly hand that transforms your investment into returns "Red Sandalwood" holds a prestigious position among the world's trees. The red gold found only in Andhra Pradesh is none other than red sandalwood, which very few people know about. This rare species of plant, red sandalwood, has its birthplace in the Sheshachalam and Nallamala forests, where there is a possibility of cultivating high-quality red sandalwood across several lakh hectares.

Why here?

In the entire terrestrial world, it is a fortune for our Telugu community to have the superior species of red sandalwood growing only in the Nallamala and Sheshachalam forests and the red soil nearby. These soils are mostly found in the regions of Prakasam, Nellore, and Chittoor.

Vedhaa Lohitha Dharma's Red Sandalwood Farms

The projects we are undertaking and planning are only in this district, where Lohitha Dharma has purchased agricultural land for their red sandalwood farms, registered it, and directly registered it to the buyer (spot registration without intermediaries), making the land permanently the buyer's. Along with the land registration, the company is also registering 400 plants (in one acre). Our Lohitha Dharma (LD) is the only company that does this.

Lohitha Dharma's Red Sandalwood Farms Cultivating red sandalwood trees, marketing and exporting to foreign countries is the complete responsibility of the company, including obtaining permission from central and state governments.

The total management cost over these 12 years is the company's responsibility.

After the crop yield, the landowner will receive 60% and the company will receive 40% of the income. The company will take responsibility for land maintenance for 12 years with the details described below, registering the sub-registrar maintenance and mutual agreement, and will give it to the landowner. In this way, we are providing mutual agreement registration for farm land.

Your Income

According to sandalwood experts, one tree can yield between 100 to 800 kilograms of sandalwood. However, if we consider that one tree yields only 100 kilograms, for 400 trees (per acre), the total yield would be approximately 40 tons. The government has announced a minimum price of 21 lakhs for C-grade, which means your income would be in crores...

Seize this opportunity to become a sandalwood farmer in Lohitha Dharma. Help protect this endangered species and be a part of environmental balance. In return, transform your heirs into millionaires.
